

AP Language and Composition: Your first five portfolio pages

This is purposely not formatted attractively. If you were not in class on the day this introductory information was provided, please ask your fellow students for a better view of how this information was presented. Since the information below provides a foundation for this course, I would like you to construct it and present it in your portfolio in a manner that is meaningful and personal to you. That, after all, is the point of this portfolio assignment.

- Page 1 Focus
  - What did the author do?
  - What effect did it have?
- Page 2 Academic Standard Categories
  - Reading
  - Writing
  - (Speaking)
  - Inquiry
  - Evaluation
  - Other
- Page 3 Rhetoric
  - Exigence + Audience + Purpose → Genre
  - Logos, Ethos, Pathos, Tone
  - Organization: Diction, Syntax, Imagery, Figures of Speech
- Page 4 Oration
  - Exordium
  - Narration
  - Partition
  - Confirmation
  - Refutation
  - Peroration
- Page 5 Question
  - Regurgitated Response
  - Constructed Response